SERVICE AGREEMENT:

HMW Special Utility District (the "Utility") agrees to sell and deliver water to the Customer and the Customer agrees to purchase and receive water from the Utility in accordance with and subject to all provisions of its current Rate Tariff and Order ("Tariff") and the applicable regulations of the Texas Commission on Environmental Quality and its successor agencies. The Tariff is available for the Customer's review at the Utility's offices during normal business hours.

Customer agrees to have no cross connections between his potable (safe) water supply and any non-potable (un-safe) water supply, to comply with all applicable regulations of the Texas Commission on Environmental Quality (TCEQ) and the provisions of the Utility's Tariff, including but not limited to the prohibitions that no pipe or pipe fitting shall contain more than 0.25% lead and no solder or flux used in the installation or repair of the drinking water plumbing shall contain 0.2% lead. The Customer agrees to allow the Utility's employees access to the Customer's property and premises at all reasonable times for the purpose of inspecting for and correcting such cross connections or other unsafe plumbing practices, as further set forth in the Tariff.

The Customer hereby agrees to cooperate with the Utility employees in the discharge of their duties, and will not tamper or allow other persons to tamper with the property of the Utility, which includes the water meter. In the event of such tampering, the Customer shall be responsible to the Utility for damages to the Utility's property and the Utility may terminate service to the Customer, either with or without notice as provided in the Tariff.

The Customer may install, on his side of the meter, devices for freeze protection, cut-off valves, pressure relief valves and check valves, to protect the Customer's real or personal property from damage that could be sustained from water, lack of water, freezing temperatures, low or high pressure or water service interruptions. The Customer is hereby notified that if the water meter turns after it is installed by the Utility, the meter will be pulled and no water will be available until the Customer contacts the office of the Utility to re-schedule installation. A re-scheduled installation will result in a service charge as provided in the Tariff. The Customer agrees that the Utility shall not be responsible, and the Customer shall hold harmless the Utility, for any claims, costs or damages that the Customer might assert based on the Utility's exercise of this policy.

Policy for Deposits

If service is not connected, or after disconnection of service, the Utility shall refund the Customer's deposit or the balance thereof, if any, as provided in the Utility's Tariff.

Landowner's Obligation w/ HMW

In accordance with HMW-Special Utility District's rate tariff, if a landowner allows a tenant to have the water utility account in their (the tenants) name and the tenant closes the account and there is a remaining balance after the final bill is issued and the deposit is subtracted from the balance, the landowner will be responsible for the remaining balance before the account can be reconnected. The landlord must pay the account in full for the water to be reconnected.

The landlord may choose to keep the water in their (the landlord's) name and have full access to the account.

If the landlord chooses for the tenant to have the utility service in their name, the landlord may choose to have the tenant sign an agreement giving the landowner access to view the account details. However, only the owner of the account has permission to close the account. A landowner may not close the account just because they have permission to view the account.

Only the person who owns the water account may request that the service be stopped.

Please sign below acknowledging that you have read and understand HMW's policy regarding landowner's and tenants.

Thank you,

CUSTOMER ELECTION FOR PAPERLESS BILLING

Technologies have emerged that continue to change business culture and trends. One of the many trends is the move toward a "green" commitment for the benefit of the environment. HMW Special Utility District is pleased to offer paperless billing and statements, by email as part of the District's support of not only the environment but also customer convenience and opportunities for reducing the costs of printing and postage.

Your election to receive paperless billing and statements authorizes the District to e-mail your utility bill directly to your selected e-mail address on the same day that the bills are printed and mailed from HMW's office. The new automatic output processor captures an image of the utility bill and deposits it into the selected e-mail account as a .pdf document. The new addition offers the benefit of receiving the bill in a time-saving, cost-effective manner. In order to elect or discontinue paperless billing and statements, please complete the information below and return to the HMW office.

How To Read Your Meter

Flow Indicator

Used when measuring Very low flow through the meter

Leak Indicator

If no water is being used inside or outside, this indicator should not be moving. If it is rotating, you may have a leak.

Meter Dial

Place Holder Indicated by (0)

Meter Register

Every turn of a number in the first black register measures 10 gallons; the second, 100 gallons.

Every turn of a number in the white register measures 1000 gallons

Determining Your Water Usage

Use the following example to help read your meter:

- Select a day to take an initial water meter reading.
- Write down the numbers you see on the meter odometer.
- After a period of time has passed, read the meter again.
- Subtract the first reading from the second reading. This equals the usage for the period. (ex. 0123000-0120000 = 3000) 3,000 gallons of water have been used during the period.

A Consumer's Guide to Backflow Prevention in Texas

The Texas Commission on Environmental Quality requires all community water systems to maintain a cross-connection control program for protection of the system that distributes drinking water to your home or business.

The cross-connection control program includes:

- Inspections of the customer's private plumbing to identify and prevent cross-connections, and potential contamination, including contamination by illegal materials containing lead.
 - Required installation and testing of backflow-prevention assemblies where appropriate.
- The costs associated with the program are borne by the customer.
- Some public water systems are subject to a plumbing code that may have more stringent requirements than the TCEQ. TCEQ regulations are a minimum.

GI-411 (5/10)

What is a cross-connection?

A physical connection between drinkable water and a liquid or gas that could make the water unsafe to drink. Wherever there is a cross-connection, there is a potential threat to public health from the liquid or gas contaminants.

What is backflow?

Water flowing in the opposite of its intended direction, either from a loss of pressure in the supply lines or an increase in pressure on the customer's side.

Common cross-connections:

- Garden hose: Backflow through cross-connections can occur at your home if you leave a garden hose turned on and submerged in a swimming pool, or insert it into your car's radiator to flush out the antifreeze, or attach it to an insecticide sprayer. That material could siphon back into your drinkable water.
- Private well: Backflow can also occur if a pump supplied from an untreated water supply, such as a private well, were connected to the drinkable water supply. The untreated water could be pumped into the drinkable water supply which serves your home and the public water system.
- Lawn sprinkler system: TCEQ regulations require that all lawn sprinkler systems be connected through a mechanical backflow-prevention assembly—without which, the stagnant water from the sprinkler system could be drawn into the drinkable water supply for your home.

How can backflow be prevented?

Backflow into a potable-water system can be prevented using an assembly approved by the water supplier, or a physical separation between the water supply and a potential source of pollution. The water supplier determines the type of backflow-prevention assembly required, based on the existing or potential degree of hazard.

Testing backflow prevention assemblies

The TCEQ requires testing of all backflow prevention assemblies at installation by a TCEQ-licensed tester. Backflow-prevention assemblies installed to protect against any substance that can make you sick must be tested annually.

How can I find out more information about backflow?

For more information about backflow and cross-connection control, visit www.tceq.state.tx.us/goto/cc.
